

The Indiana University
Department of Biology invites you to the 30th
Joan Wood Lecture

“Beyond Assessing Knowledge — Card Sorting, Superheroes, & Moving Towards Measuring Biological Expertise among Undergraduates”

presented by

Kimberly D. Tanner

Associate Professor of Biology, San Francisco State University

Director, Science Education Partnership & Assessment Laboratory

Wednesday, March 7, 2012
4:00PM, Myers Hall 130

Photo: Allison K. Busch

Dr. Tanner is a Fellow of the California Academy of Sciences and the recipient of an Outstanding Undergraduate Science Teacher Award by the Society for College Science Teachers. She has strong interests in promoting equity and diversity in biology and biology classrooms.